VACCINE INFORMATION STATEMENTS

CDC 2011-12 Influenza Vaccine Information Statements Update

We would like to pass along updated VIS sheets for the 2011-12 Influenza Seasons.

Look under news and announcements at: <http://www.cumberlandpediatric.org> for a VIS for intranasal (live) as well as the inactivated VIS forms.

RESOURCE FOR CPF MEMBERS

AAP eBooks - the premier source for pediatric eBooks for today's healthcare professionals.

Cumberland Pediatric Foundation is excited to announce that the AAP eBooks are now available through the member's section of the CPF website,

<http://www.cumberlandpediatric.org/Home.aspx>

AAP eBooks can be searched, browsed, and read online by professionals looking for best practices when diagnosing, treating, and managing clinical conditions, as well as communicating with parents and patients, and addressing practice issues.

If you have trouble signing on to the CPF web site, please contact Katie Allen:

Phone: 615-936-6056 or Kathryn.E.Allen@Vanderbilt.edu

PROJECT BRAIN

Cumberland Pediatric Foundation has partnered with Project BRAIN to provide resources to you and your patients regarding traumatic brain injuries.

Project BRAIN has provided PDF documents which serve as tools to recognize the signs and symptoms of traumatic brain injury.

The "Brain Injury-Child Signs & Symptoms Flyer" is friendlier to a younger audience, and the "Brain Injury-All Ages Signs & Symptoms Flyer" with the same content, is formatted for young adults and all ages.

Click here to find these documents in English and in Spanish on our website, or visit our website (www.cumberlandpediatric.org) and find the documents under Resources,

Useful Links and Patient Information.

If you would like more information about Project BRAIN,
please contact Sarah Sampson, Communications & Outreach, Project BRAIN (A Program of the Tennessee Disability Coalition) at 615-515-8617 or visit www.tndisability.org.
